

Construction description

Construction description

Regulation band of the louvers angle is built in the bottom part of the insulation glass distance frame. In the modified distance frame angle connection you can find a tightening of an angle regulation band louvers. It keeps tightness effectively even after 100.000 cycles of full regulation and its bowden is hidden in a way that it is invisible outside. Pushing and putting out the manipulator changes the louvers angle.